PA NEW OBSERVES

While the road between this city and Walmo is not open for traffic, some motorists have been making the trip over one side of the highway. The new road, when completed, is going to be a fine stretch of highway. The grade has been cut down and the curve near the city widened so that the new road will provide a real boulevard. Pa. News notes a number of new homes have been erected along the road while it has been in the course of construction.

With the opening of the new bridge across the Neshannock at North street much traffic has been noted on it. Especially on Sunday was there quite a noticeable bit of traffic. Practically all of this traffic is diverted from the East Washington street bridge. The approach to the bridge from East to Neshannock on North street is in wretched condition, however, and should be put in shape.

Falling leaves are noted everywhere about the city today. And with the light rainfall they make a traffic hazard that is almost as bad as ice. Autoists and street car drivers will use extra precautions in the face of this hazard, in the interests of safety.

Daylight savings time ended Sunday night and New Castle went back to eastern standard time on Sunday morning. While some apparently turned their clocks ahead an hour instead of back an hour, the city is almost settled on the eastern standard time schedule again, much to the satisfaction of a great majority of citizens.

Many motorists were out on Sunday afternoon taking a drive over the new road constructed on the Perry highway through Leesburg. The road is a fine piece of engineering work, curves and steep grades having been eliminated.

New Castle Legionnaires got away for the national convention at Louisville, Ky., in a special car over the P. & L. E. last night. Some 20 or more local delegates went to the convention.

Indications are that communities north of New Castle experienced a heavy rain over the weekend, as well as this vicinity. B. F. Johnston today noted that the Shenango river is rising somewhat after standing stationary for some time.

School children are eating breakfast with the rest of the family now, the inconvenience of two schedules for meals having been eliminated with the observance of eastern standard time by everybody in the city.

The tennis nets at the Boyles field should be moved away until next season—they will last another season if taken care of.

New Castle Water Company or the street department should give some attention to a number of cuts that have developed in the trench on Erie.

Scheduled as a road opening celebration, the affair at Leesburg on Saturday afternoon, September 28, developed into an Old Home day. Men and women who had not been back for years were there, renewing acquaintances and rejoicing with the Leesburg people over the opening of the stretch of the Perry highway which has been completed.

F. L. Offutt was the general chairman of the day, with Hollis Johnson as secretary. M. B. Orr was appointed master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers of both sessions, and had charge of the various events.

Judge McLaughry Welcomes. Following the singing of "America" and a prayer by Rev. Lloyd of the First Presbyterian church, Judge J. A. McLaughry, judge of the Mercer county court, delivered the address of welcome. He voiced the pleasure of all of Mercer county that the road was opened and predicted it would mean more traffic, more business, and more pleasure for the citizens of Leesburg and the rest of the county.

(International News Service)
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Looking happier than he has at any time in the last fortnight, Earle F. Peacock was taken from the county jail here today and started for Sing Sing prison at Ossining where he will begin serving an indeterminate sentence of from 20 years to life for the murder of his bride, Dorothy Heinzelman Peacock.

Flashlights boomed as the young radio technician and dance hall "shiek" emerged from the jail, shackled to a deputy sheriff. The latest of America's array of greatly publicized defendants was a grumpy, self-satisfied expression on his pale face.

Small Crowd Gathers. Down through a lane of moribund men, women and girls he came, looking neither to right nor left. A crowd of about 150 persons had assembled.

NEW NORTH STREET BRIDGE IS OPENED

Work on the construction of the bridge over the Neshannock at North street, and the approaches has been completed, and the new bridge was opened for traffic late Saturday afternoon.

Chief of Police C. G. Horner and Officer Carl Lockard made the first trip across in a police car, being the first permitted to cross the completed bridge. After their trip the structure was formally thrown open to all traffic.

The bridge has been under construction for a year or so, being a concrete and steel structure. It was erected by the county.

After being opened on Saturday it was noted that it was utilized for quite a large amount of traffic. On Sunday the traffic was increased and it is indicated that when it becomes generally known that the structure is in use that a still greater increase will be shown.

Traffic diverted across the new bridge is being taken away from the East Washington street bridge and thus relieving the congestion at that place, police and traffic authorities announce.

The condition of the street leading to the bridge, North street, from East to Neshannock, is not very inviting, but it will probably be used a lot by autoists nevertheless, until it is repaired.

Man Drops Dead On Hay Ladders Of Farm Wagon

Driverless Team Brings Body
Of George Sedgewick
To Silo Being Filled

BELIEVED HIS DEATH
IS DUE TO APOPLEXY

While alone with a team of horses on the W. N. Spanow farm near Gardner this forenoon, George Sedgewick, aged about 65 years, died on the hay-ladders of his wagon. The driverless team came back to a silo which he was filling, where Mr. Spanow found the body hanging over the circle at the front end of the wagon.

Mr. Spanow notified Mrs. J. W. Wilkinson where Sedgewick made his home who called Coroner J. P. Caldwell. The coroner found two small bruises on Sedgewick's forehead near each eye which had bled slightly, but which were not sufficient to have caused death. Indications were that Sedgewick had died from a stroke of apoplexy and that the bruises had been made by falling on the hay-ladders.

Mr. Sedgewick had been with the Wilkinson's practically all his life, saving when he lived with Lowry Wilkinson when he was but ten years of age. He had been at Mrs. J. W. Wilkinson's home for the past nine years.

Last week Mr. Spanow had assisted John Wilkinson in filling his silo and this week Mr. Wilkinson sent Mr. Sedgewick over to assist Mr. Spanow to fill his silo. Mr. Sedgewick was apparently in good health when he left this morning, not having complained. He had only been at work a short time when he died.

Mr. Sedgewick was a single man. He has one sister somewhere in Kentucky. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

PARIS, Sept. 30.—Complete mystery today surrounded the whereabouts of Captain Dieudonne Costes and Maurice Bellonte, famous French airmen who are missing on an attempted record-breaking distance and endurance flight.

Up to a late hour today, no word had been received of their position and it appeared that they had been as completely swallowed up by the land they sought to traverse as Nungesser and Goll were by the ocean two years ago.

Heading toward Irkutsk, Siberia, an approximately distance of 5,000 miles, Costes and Bellonte left Le Bourget flying field Friday morning. They planned a stop at Irkutsk, and hoped to be able to continue on to Tokio.

Now comes the season of the year, the poet oft indites, and of the bright autumnal days he writes and writes, he sings the praises of the leaves, and eulogizes fall, and adjectives of length and sound and meaning have the call. Why does the poet sing his lines, in praise of fall, the answer is he needs the dough and thus sets to his task. The winter must be laid in, the kids all need some socks, and poems must be written out, and sold to get the rocks. The poet writes and sings his songs, an' scribbles on his ley, it all to get the well known cash, it's sixty-three today.

Artist Depicts High Spots In Colorful Career Of Visiting British Leader

Born in 1866 of humble fishing folk in the little village of Moray Firth, Loggismouth, Scotland, MacDonald went to London at 19, where he got a job as bus conductor. Later became invoice clerk.

Overwork broke health at 21 and future looked black until he obtained post as secretary to member of parliament. Reputed Liberalism in 1894 and became secretary of the new Labor party.

During the years of his greatest struggle MacDonald married Margaret Ethel Gladstone, niece of Lord Kelvin. She bore him five children and died in 1911. Constantly aided her husband's success.

He was made leader of the Labor party in 1911 and so grew in public esteem that he was offered post in war cabinet in 1914. Refused. Headed group of pacifists in house and was denounced as traitor.

He was returned again in the election of 1922 and was again made party leader. In 1924 MacDonald became prime minister and foreign secretary in good will gesture toward disarmament plans.

Defeated by Stanley Baldwin, he became leader of the opposition for four years, returning to power in the elections of May, 1929. Comes to America as good will gesture toward disarmament plans.

PRESIDENT HOOVER MAY LOSE OUT ON FLEXIBLE TARIFF

thority to adjust rates to meet changing economic conditions. Under the coalition's plan, the U. S. tariff commission would report direct to congress any necessary changes in existing rates, with the President empowered merely to send along his personal recommendation.

Leaders Sense Defeat.

Administration leaders, apparently sensing defeat, were seeking adoption of a "sixty day veto" provision, by which the President would be authorized to act finally on any proposed rate changes if congress failed to approve or disapprove the commission's recommendations within sixty days. Coalition leaders opposed this provision on the ground it would defeat their purpose to strip the President of all rate-making powers.

There was a "fog" in the coalition's plan. This lay in the fact that congress would have to adopt a joint resolution, authorizing any proposed rate change before it would become effective. The President therefore would have the final word in any rate controversy, through his constitutional power to veto acts of congress.

No Predictions.

Not even the most optimistic member of the coalition would predict the enactment of such a rate change over a presidential veto. Thus the President would be able to prevent rate changes, even if he can no longer fix the rates.

The outcome was in doubt, even though coalition leaders claimed a victory and one administration poll showed a line-up of 48 to 47 against the President. If all senators were present and voting the coalition leaders claimed a larger majority but there was every indication the vote would be close.

Poll Is Taken.

The administration poll showed fourteen Republicans ready to vote against the President and six Democrats ready to support him. The rebellious Republicans, so polled, were Blaine, Borah, Brookhart, Cutting, Prazier, Howell, Johnson, LaFollette, McMaster, Norbeck, Norris, Nye, Pine and Schall. The friendly Democrats were Brewster, Fletcher, Kendrick, Ransdell, Steck and Trammell.

A number of senators, however, were absent and the absentees, unless paired, would charge the totals so that the ultimate result was still clouded with doubt. In event of a tie vote—a possibility—the President would win since Vice President Curtis would cast the deciding vote for retention of the flexible provision as it is in existing law. This gives the President power to fix new rates on recommendations of the tariff commission, with congress having no immediate control over his decisions.

from New Castle was present and under the leadership of Director Culbertson they played many numbers. The Mercer band was also present and the Mercer Pipe and Drum corps.

One of the features of the afternoon was a parade showing the past and present modes of transportation. Men and women dressed in the garb of other years were on horseback. Several old carriages were dug out of barns and put into use, and one float contained a group of old ladies who had gathered around a splashing wheel. Several hundred school children with flags were also in the parade, followed by a long line of automobiles.

Other Speakers.

Afternoon speakers were heard in the afternoon and evening sessions, among them Secretary of Agriculture Charles G. Jordan, Attorney Q. A. Gordon and E. B. Harshaw. Many guests were present from New Castle, Sharon, Mercer and adjacent cities.

The opening of the Perry highway through Leesburg gives this village an outlet north and south. When the road is finally completed, it will put Leesburg on the straight line from Pittsburgh to Erie.

The celebration, in addition to marking the completion of the improved road into the village, also took into account other progress in the community during the past few months, the erection of the new Presbyterian church, extension of electric lines to the village, completion of a centralized school, etc.

The village was appropriately decorated for the celebration, and the event is one that will live long in the memory of the inhabitants, as a date marking the start of a new era for the town.

Peacock was hustled into a parked car. In a jiffy he was being driven up the road leading to Sing Sing, ten miles away.

Peacock arrived at the grim walls of Sing Sing at 10:30 o'clock. He was immediately taken to the warden's office.

Peacock was handled just like any other prisoner at Sing Sing. He was taken at once to the new administration building. There a clerk took his pedigree.

Past Death House

Then he was led through a yard and past the "death house" which once harbored Ruth Snyder and Judd Gray. Peacock, who feels he was lucky at having "beat the chair," gave the place a searching look.

And then he was escorted to the prison house. There he was bathed and given a shoddy, prison gray uniform, to replace his well-fitting blue serge.

He was questioned with a view of determining his permanent assignment. This will be determined later. Meanwhile he was assigned to the "reception company"—a group of prisoners detailed to rough work about the prison. They are allowed no recreation.

Then taken from now Peacock will be given his regular assignment.

"Well," said Peacock, looking Sing over, "I've seen this place before, but I never expected I'd get here."

STAR LORE

HOW LARGE IS A COMET?

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

The diameter of an average sized comet—the comet—is 80,000 miles. About the smallest that could be observed with a telescope would be 10,000 miles. Halley's comet measured 550,000 miles in diameter, while the great Holmes comet of 1892 attained a diameter of 1,400,000 miles. The dimension of a comet's head is very changeable. When far removed from the sun its size becomes greatly reduced. As it nears the sun, gases ooze forth from the nucleus that expand the volume of the comet's head. Comets usually attain their greatest dimensions after they have passed their perihelion (i. e., rounded the sun).

How would you tell the exact time at the South Pole?

When Commander Byrd sailed to the bottom of the world, this was one of his first problems. And because accuracy was essential in scientific observations 60 Hamilton watches went with him.

Two Hamiltons flew with him over the North Pole. And for years, two or three hundred of them have timed the crack trains and express mail planes of the nation.

The same unerring accuracy is yours with any one of our pocket or strap Hamiltons. Come in and look at them. They're priced from $50 to $68.50. Ask also or write for a copy of the fascinating folder, "With Byrd at the Bottom of the World."

More and more COLDS treated externally

The ever growing demand for Vicks VapoRub, the external treatment for colds, has once more compelled a change in the familiar slogan.

Not long ago this slogan, made famous when Vicks reached "17 Million Jars Used Yearly," was raised to "21 Million." This figure too has been outgrown, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly"—a jar for every family in the United States.

When Vicks was originated the idea of treating colds without "dosing" was almost unheard of. Today the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Waterways Meeting Stirs New Interest In Projects

Secretary Good's Address Before Association Gives Encouragement While Many Regional Supporters Are Aroused

Meeting at Albany, N. Y., the Atlantic Deepwaterways Association focused attention on the importance of development of water transportation in meeting the future needs of the country. Secretary of War Good is believed to have voiced the purpose of the administration in his endorsement of big projects in this sphere. Regional interests also have been aroused by evidence that engineers are giving attention to the matter.

"Speaking presumably for the administration in Washington," says the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BELL, "Secretary Good asserted that there would be need for all the waterways, as well as the rail routes, to move the commerce of the United States in the not distant future, at the present rate of increase. There seems no reason to doubt the purpose of the administration to make the best possible use of the waterways as a means of promoting the prosperity of all America for decades to come."

"If we were privileged to hazard a guess as to the President's desires in the way of achievement for his first few years in office," comments the WATERLOO TRIBUNE, "we would unhesitatingly declare that his ambition runs to development of waterway transportation and connection of the Middle West with the ocean. Here we have in the Mississippi and tributary rivers traversing the heart of the country, with the Great Lakes at the head, the most natural waterway in the world. If this great resource were in any other progressive country in the world, it long ago would have been put to good use."

"The economic basis for the improvement," according to the HARTFORD COURANT, "is found in Mr. Good's statement that improvements already made have reduced the freight bill of the nation by $600,000,000. Waterways were promised as a measure of agricultural relief during the presidential campaign, in order to enable the farmer to ship his products to market more cheaply. Mr. Good does not believe that improved waterways would injure the railroads, inasmuch as only bulky, slow-moving freight would be carried by water, while the railroads would be relied upon to carry the increased finished products anticipated as the result of cheaper raw material. The project is a vast one, calling for the expenditure of billions, perhaps, before it is completed. It intrigues the imagination, but its execution will depend upon continuing proof of its economic feasibility. In any case, it is a problem of the future rather than of the immediate present."

"It takes a mighty long uphill fight," suggests the LANSING STAR JOURNAL, "to change what the lawyers call the status quo, or, as someone else has suggested, to win away the followers of the god of things as they are. The effort to get agreement necessary to building the St. Lawrence waterway is a case in point. It may be that progress is being made toward the realization of that great and engaging idea, but the opposition is vastly outspoken and bellicose. It behooves people who see in the St. Lawrence waterway a consummation devoutly to be wished for, everlastingly to do their part to keep the tension of opinion straining in the right direction."

Emphasis is placed by the SYRACUSE HERALD on the fact that Secretary Good naturally referred to the proposed St. Lawrence route, but that paper feels that "it is worthy of note that he refrained from committing himself on the comparative merits of that impracticable project and the same proposal of an all-American route. As a supposed spokesman of the Hoover administration, he did well to confine himself to impartial exposition."

"One can understand," declares the KALAMAZOO GAZETTE, "why so many Eastern spokesmen seem ready to scoff at the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence channel and urge the all-American route as an alternative. Indeed, the latter project has been described as so far from feasible as to constitute a mere sham proposition for those interests which are eager to prevent the construction of any Lakes-to-the-ocean waterway at all. Yet the Middle West's demand for easy, economic access to the world commerce is not to be denied or evaded indefinitely. It is a just demand and one which must be met at the earliest opportunity. When one considers that it is cheaper, in many classes of commodities, to ship cargoes around by way of the Panama Canal to the Pacific Coast than to transport them by rail to California markets, one can easily understand why certain Eastern interests are so loath to give up the advantages they now enjoy over their Mid-Western competitors."

The KANSAS CITY TIMES quotes John F. Shirlair as stating that the Panama Canal has not greatly helped the Middle West, but it has helped the East and the far West of the United States, as well as the far East and Australia. The Times adds: "It is ironic that the Middle West should not share proportionately in benefits for which it paid its part."

"The facts should make Congress especially considerate of the Middle West in framing the tariff bill and in provision for the completion of the inland waterways system. With the Upper Mississippi, the Lakes-to-the-Gulf and the Missouri River waterways completed on a comparative basis with the Ohio and Lower Mississippi rivers, the Middle States will gain some advantages they do not now have, and to which they are entitled."

Expressing satisfaction that the Waterways Association adopted resolutions urging Congress to give favorable consideration to a ship canal between the Great Lakes and the Hudson river and the sea, the ALBANY EVENING NEWS states: "This is not a resolution adopted without thought. It comes from an organization of men who are interested in waterways, who have made a thorough and exhaustive study of waterways, and who know the needs of the nation in this respect. This movement is under way. It should be given added momentum. It should have government attention immediately."

Greater attention to the need of improving the Tennessee River is urged by the CHATTANOOGA TIMES, while the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BELL declares attention should be given to the Atlantic Coast inland waterway, on which the engineers have estimated a cost of $50,000,000. The Bulletin says: "There is no question of the serviceability of such a canal, nor any question of the readiness of shipping to use its facilities. An expenditure of $50,000,000 would pay good dividends to American business all along the Atlantic coast."

WHERE PARTISANSHIP DID NOT PREVAIL

MUCH American capital has gone abroad to found industrial plants. To the extent that the intention is to see the product on the other side of the Atlantic, the right can not be denied.

But debates in the senate have called attention to the danger that foreign cheap labor may be employed in foreign countries to the detriment of higher paid labor in the United States; that American money invested industrially over there may compete with American money invested here.

The senate has taken this particular bill by the horns. It has adopted an amendment to the tariff bill prohibiting entry of imported articles on which American patents are held; also prohibiting the importation of goods manufactured abroad under a trademark owned by an American citizen.

This action was taken by a non-partisan vote. Republicans and Democrats split. For once party lines were obliterated. Would that the entire tariff bill could be considered in the same non-partisan manner.

COORDINATION—GETS RESULTS

American communities large and small generally acknowledge that coordination of charity activities does more good and produces better results than the divergent and conflicting activities of all agencies engaged in such work. Organized charity not only serves better those who are in need of such aid but puts to better and more intelligent use the money contributed.

The community chest plan is no longer in the experimental stage. As it has developed there has not been a suggestion that charity has suffered. On the contrary, more good has been accomplished.

It is not merely an agency to obtain and expend the charitable gifts of the people that the community chest serves the community. It acts as the agent of the whole population in charitable matters. It studies the division of responsibility between the welfare agencies and the government, and promotes co-operation between them.

The final appeal of the community chest is that it simplifies even the task of giving. It reduces the number of appeals. It knows the whole field, and makes a more equitable distribution of funds available.

TEN BRIDGE EXPERTS IN AMERICA

It is solemnly asserted that there are not more than ten bridge experts in all the United States. This, of course, refers to authorities on card playing, and not to the engineers who construct steel spans across rivers and ravines. Both have their places in this modern age, and the card teachers have become so numerous that they have been holding a national convention in New York. It was Mr. Whitehead who said that the actual experts in the game of bridge could be counted on the fingers of two hands. This is not surprising. From our experience we did not know there were that many.

Mr. Whitehead divides bridge players into six categories. First comes the expert of whom we have been speaking. Then in order come the advanced player, the good player, the average player, the mediocre player and the poor player. This authority frankly says that eighty-five per cent of the players in this country are either average, mediocre or poor. It would not be rash to say that fifty per cent come under the classification of "poor."

It was said long ago that only three persons understood the Einstein Theory of relativity, one of them being Professor Einstein. The other two have never been publicly named. So it is with bridge experts. Most of us know about Mr. Work and Mr. Whitehead, but who the other eight are has not been revealed.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

MORE HONESTY NOW

A Pennsylvania storekeeper has been able to retire after 35 years behind the counter because his customers in the last decade have been more prompt in paying their bills than were his customers during the first twenty-five years. He says there are fewer deadbeats in 1927 than there were in 1892. How is this to be reconciled with these foreboding lamentations so often heard nowadays about the world going to the dogs, crime waves, loss of faith in humanity and many similar prophecies fearful to contemplate?

And the people who pay their debts on the first of the month do not all live in that one village and don't all trade at that one general store. A national association of credit men has accumulated statistics showing that ninety-five per cent of Americans pay their store bills promptly, and of the other five per cent the majority are slow but sure pay. Few of the millions of automobiles sold in this country every year are sold for cash, and yet the loss resulting from "bad credit" is less than one-half of one per cent.

Fifty per cent of the retail business of this country is done on a credit basis, according to credit men. The traditional thirty days' credit is still in widespread use and the deferred or partial payment plan of buying is in universal use where large amounts are involved. Where there is so much credit there must be trustworthy people.

PRIDE

Pride is sometimes condemned. Men have been known to have too much pride to do commonplace work. That is the wrong kind. But pride of the right sort is one of the most valuable adjuncts to character. There is something in some men of strength and courage that keeps them going forward against the hardest kind of conditions, with their heads up and their chests out. They are failing in business. They are failing somewhere else along the line. Things are breaking badly. But they conceal everything from even their best friends. They pretend that all is well when all is not well. Pride won't let them show the world their empty pocket-book, the failure of their plans, the failure of their home life, the failure of their children. They swallow disappointment. They carry on. That's pride of the right sort.

A strong man has pride, and it keeps his head up when the waves are high.

DIVIDENDS

The habit of self-control pays more dividends than any other investment you have. If in the midst of excited talk, when charges are hurled back and forth, when men all about you lose their tempers and say things they must later be sorry for, you can keep silent or speak softly, your reward will come within the hour. When other men are looking on with grief and humiliation upon the spectacle in which they played such a sorry part, you will have the serene satisfaction of being sure you have cut no ties of friendships, burned no bridges and haven't made a fool of yourself.

CANUTE

Workmen digging near Winchester, England, in 1776, found the body of King Canute, Norse ruler of Britain many hundreds of years before. Canute, when he was king, caused his throne to be set up by the sea to test his power. He called upon the waves of the sea to recede, but they came up and over his feet. Canute learned the limitations of the king business. Hundreds of years later they dug up the king. He was only a man, but the sea was doing business at the old stand.

Bible Thought for Today

POWER FROM CONQUEST—And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: And there went out a fame of him through all the region round about. And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.—Luke 4:14, 15.

PRAYER: O Lord, our Lord, deliver us from evil and empower us by Thy Spirit.

THE ROPE TO HANG A MAN IS BRAIDED BY HIS ANCESTORS

For want of a nail in a horse shoe a kingdom was lost. Doubtless you remember the old story.

Observing the downfall of the kingdom, a good report came to the king. It was the loss of a battle, the loss of the battle to the loss of a leader, the leader's downfall to the loss of a shoe, the loss of the shoe to the loss of a nail.

Following events backward is a simple matter. And if each event is an inevitable result of one that preceded it, one blessed with great wisdom should see in each present event the history of the events that will follow it.

ONE ON THE DOG

Our worthy Hints and Dints man was very indignant over the destruction of his evergreens by dogs, whose owners did not respect either the law or their neighbors or care enough for humanity to confine their so-called pets on their own premises. I wonder how he would have felt if instead of evergreens it had been his small child when the beasts attacked.

On the evening of September 3, our little daughter was viciously attacked in our own yard by the huge police dog of an Adams street man. She was severely bitten on back, head and two arms. This attack occurred a few minutes after the dog attacked and bit a 13-year old girl. Our child is still under daily care of a doctor. The dog continues to live.

In the name of humanity how far are the owners of dogs carrying this thing. We are not raising our babies as meat for dogs.

When approached on this subject the owner said the dog was only playing with these children. As some of these wounds were an inch deep and some reached the bone on the child's arm. The question is when is a dog playing and when is a bite a bite.

Without a question the dogs were only playing with our Hints and Dints man's evergreens. They did not mean to destroy them. It is not the dogs but the owners who are lacking in common sense.

Florida surely is not staging a hurricane to attract northern tourists. Maybe it is an attempt to depreciate considerable cash and labor to try to beautify my yard, not just for my own pleasure but for the pleasure of others who might pass by, and make a better community to live in. And there comes along a lot of mongrels not only destroying the shrubbery and flowers that cost little, but evergreens that cost real money and plenty of it. People that are in love with these mongrels should keep them at home and let them destroy their own yard if they have any, or move out where they would not destroy other people's property.

What I can't understand is why they are permitted to run around when there is a law prohibiting same. We are told to beautify our homes and help your town and we get up in the morning, go out and look your yard over and find half a dozen fine plants broken down; what a grand and glorious feeling. I want to say here I like a dog just as well as any one, but they should be kept where they don't bother other people. Thanks for the space.

ILLUSIONS OF WAR

War I do abhor And yet how sweet The sound along the marching street Of drum and life, and I forget Broken old mothers and the whole Dark butchering without a soul.

Without a soul—save this bright treat Of heady music, sweet as hell; And even my peace abiding feet Go marching with the marching street.

For yonder goes the life, And what care I for human life; The tears fill my astonished eyes And my full heart is like to break, And yet it is embannered like A dream those drummers make.

Oh, it is wickedness to clothe Yon hideous grinning thing that stalks Hidden in music like a queen That in a garden of glory walks Tell good men love the thing, they loathe.

Art, thou has many infamies, But not an infamy like this. O, snap the life and still the drum, And show the monster as he is.

New Castle, Pa., 9:26:23.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE CERTAIN FATE

He talked of age as something guaranteed. Planned for it as a certainty and said: "Gray-headed dependence was a thing to dread."

When one is old one must be free from need. The poor house is a fearful place, indeed! And swiftly are the years of harvest sped. When I am old I must have meat and bread. At seventy I shall want to sit and read.

Life was the thing he planned for to the last. Always tomorrow's needs his eye could see. With no assurance that it was to be, The fear of Old Age seemed to hold him fast.

At last uncertain fates he stood agast. Yet never thought of death, the certainty. Copyright, 1929, Edgar A. Guest.

Flood Receding At Augusta, Ga.

Million Dollar Damage Done
By Flood At Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 30.—Relief for inhabitants of the flooded districts of Georgia near here was pushed forward today as high waters, receding at the rate of six inches an hour, made way for workers.

Total damage in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 was done when flood waters inundated Augusta and surrounding towns.

The streets of Augusta will be completely clear of water so normal today, according to municipal authorities.

Typoid serum and purifiers have been sent to Waynesboro, near here, surrounding that city, the flood cut off its water supply and polluted the reservoir, but medical authorities said prompt relief work had made an epidemic unlikely.

Five persons are known to be missing, rail traffic south of here remains in a hopeless condition. Railway men face a difficult task where bridges are swept away and long gaps appear in tracks built along levees.

On answering a call, about 4:30 o'clock this morning to the Blanchard street district, where a woman had become frightened by the repeated driving past her home of a blue colored coupe in which there were two men, Officers Thompson and Kennedy got in touch with two young men who were in the coupe, who claimed that they had purchased the machine, an almost new Chrysler, for appearance later.

On making sure that a gambling game was in progress, they raided the place, arresting Florence as proprietor of a disorderly house and 11 other persons, men and women, all colored, as visitors in a disorderly house. Florence is being held for a hearing before the mayor, while most of the visitors have been put up for forfeits of $10 for their appearance later.

Florence is being held for a hearing before the mayor, while most of the visitors have been put up for forfeits of $10 for their appearance later.

$200 from a man in Poland, O., and were enroute to Washington, D. C. Later the young men, who gave the names of Harry Jolly of Akron, O., and Theron Adams of Washington, D. C., admitted having stolen the machine in Akron and of being on their way to Washington, D. C.

Both in statements to the police alleged that the other had suggested that they steal the car and go to Washington. Jolly admitted to having been in trouble before.

The Akron police authorities were notified and are sending for the young men, who are being detained here, also the car, which was stolen on Saturday.

STREETSVILLE, Ont., Sept. 30.—The death of the Rev. John S. Dobbin, a retired Presbyterian minister, who lived in Streetsville three years, has revealed a story of a man apparently without means and during the last three months in an ailing condition, who accepted the kindly help of his neighbors, and who at his death has turned out to be well off. He is said to have held mortgages and Victory bonds worth $40,000. He never intimated he was wealthy or said he was poor.

HOUSEWIVES GOT INTO THE HABIT of carrying good things from their tables to the little three-room house where the pastor lived. Before his sickness Mr. Dobbin was just the "old minister" to the people. He lived the life of a hermit in his white house on the main street. He was his own cook and housekeeper, and apparently no relatives ever visited him. It is said he had been out of touch with his brothers and sisters 17 years. He had never married.

RED TAPE CUSTER
Confronts Sisters

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—A strange naturalization mixup in which Uncle Sam demands the impossible and admits it, arose in Federal Judge Kerrigan's court, importing the citizenship of a Palo Alto schoolteacher and her sister, who have been in this country for more than 20 years.

THE PROBABLE VICTIMS of a technicality are Miss Margaret Miller Matheson, 30, of Palo Alto, and Mrs. Alberta Matheson King, 28, San Jose. They are natives of Canada, but came to this country September 1, 1906, and have been here ever since. Last December they were admitted to citizenship by Judge Kerrigan, and after living most of their lives here had reason to believe they were thoroughly American, technically as well as in spirit.

BUT GEORGE M. NAUS, acting United States attorney, gave notice that he will move to set aside the citizenship of the two under a recent Supreme court ruling which says that any person admitted to this country after June 29, 1906, cannot become a citizen unless he or she obtained a certificate of arrival on entering.

NAUS ADMITTED the machinery for obtaining such certificates was not in motion June 29, or many months thereafter, including September, the date the sisters arrived. Naus says

Y.M.C.A. Classes To Resume Today

Directors Ready For Opening
Of Fall And Winter
Schedule

ALL DEPARTMENTS
ARE RECONDITIONED

With the gymnasium, handball courts and bowling alleys thoroughly reconditioned the New Castle Y. M. C. A. is in readiness for the opening of the 1929-30 term which will get under way officially on Tuesday, October 1. General Secretary R. L. McNamee stated today that every department is in tip-top shape for the opening of the fall and winter activities.

Things will begin to start at the "Y" next week and quickly bring to an end the slump which comes during the summer when the association's camp is operated on the Slippery Rock creek.

The gymnasium stands completely renovated. The floor is refinished for basketball, volleyball, handball and indoor baseball, and has been repainted. The apparatus has been reconditioned and is ready for use. Handball court boards have been newly painted and are ready for the classes next Tuesday. It is planned this year to give a course to handball beginners during the hours of 7 and 8 p. m. on Wednesday.

Bowling alleys at the "Y" will come in for their share of use this winter. With the formation of the church league here, the alleys, which have been replanned, are due for considerable use.

Next Tuesday will see the start of regular classes for men and boys. With the schedule of classes offered the "Y" directors have made it possible for every man or boy to get that type of physical recreation that he particularly needs. Classes are so arranged that they interfere none whatsoever with busy hours of the business man.

Swimming promises to attract interest among the patrons of the association. Inquiries as to when the season starts have been made for some time. Jack Herbert, swimming coach, will be in charge of the boys and the senior teams this year. Junior leaders' work will commence with the formation of a club under Herbert Kirk's supervision. Kirk is a lay director, and will assist also in coaching wrestling teams.

Physical exams have been under way for the past month and at the present time nearly every "Y" athlete is prepared to start the season.

Boys' Work Secretary William A. Thomas has assisted General Secretary McNamee and Henry T. MacNicholas, acting physical director, in planning the fall's work.

Reckless Drivers To Be Shown No Mercy By Court

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 30.—In sentencing Charles Hay of East Brady on the conviction of assault and battery with an automobile Judge James M. Galbraith declared his purpose of using his authority to break up the practice of reckless driving.

Hay was the driver of the automobile which on the night of August 9 seriously injured Roxanna, 9-year-old daughter of Alphonse Cancelli of Chicago. Harry Rettig also of East Brady, owner of the car accompanied Hay.

Judge Galbraith made it clear after hearing pleas of attorneys for Hay that the youth was fortunate that the accident did not result in his being tried on the charge of manslaughter instead of assault and battery.

Hay was sentenced to pay a fine of $200, the court costs and serve a term of four months in the Allegheny county workhouse. If the fine and costs are paid within 60 days Judge Galbraith will receive a motion for parole from the workhouse.

Hay and Rettig are defendants in a suit for $30,000 damages as a result of the injuries to the girl filed by her father in the Butler county court. The case will be heard at the December term of court.

Two Balloons Are Battling Elements For Trophy Honors

Captain William Kepner, U. S. Army Pilot Is In First Place As Far As Is Known

NINE BALLOONS WERE IN RACE

Seven Balloons Forced To Land In Indiana And Ohio By Strong Winds

(International News Service) ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—Captain William Kepner, piloting the United States army balloon, early today had traveled the further distance of any entrants to land in the Gordon Bennett international balloon race. Kepner, winner of the 1928 Bennett race, landed at Celina, O., at 3 o'clock yesterday, having gone 381 miles from the point of takeoff. At midnight it was reported that only two of the nine entries in the race were still fighting for the trophy. They were the Belgium and the Danubian. Bad weather forced the other contestants to the ground. Second in point of distance was the Goodgear VIII, a civilian balloon which came down late yesterday near Troy, O., 325 miles from here. One Near Tragedy One near tragedy marked the lighter-than-air classic. That was when the Argentina, only South American entry, crashed on a farm, three miles south of Fairbanks, Ind., and Pilot Eduardo Bradley suffered a broken leg. Bradley was rushed to a hospital at Terre Haute where his condition is said to be serious. His assistant, Francisco Cadaval, was also injured in the fall. The United States navy balloon piloted by Lieut. T. Settle was forced down ten miles southeast of Eaton, O., 315 miles from St. Louis. This was the third longest distance reported thus far.

Bethany Sunday School Observes 25th Anniversary

Prof. Ralph D. Heim Of Thiel College Is Principal Speaker Of Tl. Day

In spite of the rain the Rally Day service in the Bethany Lutheran church on Sunday, was largely attended, the main auditorium being filled to capacity. Among the out of town visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Wimer and family of Warren, Ohio. Mr. Wimer, a former superintendent, spoke very fittingly and feelingly upon the influence of the Sunday school and upon his own life and that of his children. His eldest son, Theodore, is now a missionary in Africa. A special letter from Dr. Burgess, president of the Pittsburgh Lutheran Synod was read. The Junior choir under the direction of Mrs. L. E. Cramer and Mrs. W. E. McMillen won the esteem of the whole congregation. The primary department under the leadership of Mrs. C. M. Thompson rendered their part of the program with credit. Prof. Ralph D. Heim, Ph.D., of the department of Religious Education of Thiel College gave a fitting address on "Organization and Co-operation" or as he termed it "team work". His address was well adapted to the younger members of the congregation.

In the afternoon the Conference of Sunday School Workers was attended by delegations from Trinity Lutheran church of Elwood City; Jerusalem Lutheran church of Princeton; St. Johns and St. Paul's and the Finnish Lutheran churches of New Castle. Dr. Heim set high standards, but not impossible for the Sunday school workers. His address on "The Home and Religious Education" was well received also his talk on "Home Sweet Home." He spoke of the present status in the home life and how to accomplish it. "Without true, sincere and straightforward religious life in the home, our social fabric is in a precarious condition. Dr. Heim declared: "What attention are we giving to the development of better boys and girls?" "What can we expect from the cigarette smoking mothers and gin drinking fathers?" Dr. Heim paid tribute to Theodore Roosevelt and Abraham Lincoln as men who had time in the midst of duties to the state to give the children some attention. The musical part of the program were much appreciated. Arthur Hulbert and Mrs. Willis Parks sang "The Lord Is My Light" by Dudley Buck. Mrs. Park sang the solo "My Task". The Junior choir of Bethany church sang "There Is A City Beautiful."

French Oppose Sub Restriction

Attitude Of France On Naval Disarmament Is Presented

OPPOSE MOVE FOR SUB ABOLISHMENT

By FREDERICK K. ABBOTT International News Service Staff Correspondent PARIS, Sept. 30.—France has already notified the United States that the French oppose any proposal for suppression of the submarine because the under water craft is one of the chief means of French defence, Vice Admiral Dumesnil, of the French navy, revealed to International News Service today. The vice admiral was in command of the French naval forces in the Mediterranean sea during the great war. In an exclusive statement to International News Service he outlined the attitude of France towards naval limitation, indicating the policy France will pursue if the Paris government accepts an invitation to participate in the proposed five power naval reduction conference, sponsored by President Hoover of the United States and Premier Ramsay MacDonald, of England. The Washington naval agreement set a certain scale for the French navy. Vice Admiral Dumesnil pointed out. This scale was a reduced one. The French navy has lived up to this program, even though the moral effect was greatly felt by its personnel. The French naval officers sacrificed their pride to justify the French people in their desire for peace. Based on these new lines and with reduced material, the French navy has tried to make the best use of its limited forces, conceded by the other powers, to protect its own coast and offer security to its colonial possessions, Vice Admiral Dumesnil continued. "Now comes the question of the possible abrogation of the submarine, which entirely upsets the program of the French navy," continued the admiral. "A program limited not only by the Washington agreements, but also by a budget drained by nearly five years of war during which France sacrificed everything to defend her frontiers, and to defend liberty shoulder to shoulder with her allies. "During this time her navy was neglected. All her efforts were turned to the manufacture of arms and ammunition for her allies and for herself. "The principal argument against the submarine is the savage acts committed by the Germans during the war against unprotected vessels. There is not much value in this argument when you consider that open cities were bombed by warships and that Zeppelins and airplanes caused millions of dollars property damage and the loss of thousands of lives.

Revival Opens In Primitive Church

Special evangelistic services opened Sunday in the Primitive Methodist church, Mill and Maitland streets, and were featured by a fine interest and large congregations. The services will be held each evening at 7:30 and will continue until October 18. The pastor, Rev. W. C. Tyrrell, will preach this evening on the subject, "Religious Times," and on Tuesday evening his subject will be "The Strong Weak Man." On Wednesday Rev. Howard Sweeten, evangelist from Ashley, Ill., will arrive in this city and will assist in the services. Rev. Sweeten has preached in the Primitive Methodist church on previous occasions and it is very likely that he will meet with success during the time that he is in the city.

COLORED MEN IN FIGHT ON SUNDAY

When officers Moore and Thomas answered a call to the alley near the Eight ward fire department about 1:35 o'clock Sunday morning, they found Bish Stormar and John McKisson, colored men, engaged in a fight. McKisson claimed that Stormar was trying to cut him with a knife, but the officers failed to find any knife. McKisson was released on a five dollar forfeit, while Stormar was fined $5 when he appeared before the mayor later Sunday morning. Officer Lockard Saturday brought a gun shot machine into the police station, which he had taken from a poolroom at 331 East Washington street. The owners of the machine have been ordered in before the mayor. The machine permits of awards in other than the gum, which it dispenses.

America's Share In World Trade For 1928 Shown As One-Seventh

United States Leads Entire World In Exports, Fall To Second Place In Imports

Total International Trade For 1928 Shows Further Increase; Trend Upward Unbroken

By ROBERT S. THORNBURG International News Service Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—America's share of world trade in 1928 valued at approximately $68,000,000,000, was about one-seventh, according to a review announced today by the Department of Commerce.

The United States, with exports of $5,128,000,000, exceeded any country in foreign sales, comparing with $4,106,000,000 for the United Kingdom, $2,930,000,000 for Germany and $2,013,000,000 for France.

England, owing to materially heavier imports, however, exceeded the United States in total trade. Combined exports and imports for the United States were $9,219,000,000, and from the United Kingdom $9,951,000,000.

"The total international trade in 1928 showed a further increase, continuing the upward movement which has been unbroken since 1921, except for the temporary decline in 1926, resulting chiefly from the British coal strike," J. J. Kral of the Commerce Department said.

"During the last few years there has been, on the whole, a downward trend in the prices of the commodities which enter into international trade. Had prices remained constant, the expansion in the value of trade among nations would have been appreciably greater."

Exports to 105 commercial countries in 1928 were valued at about $33,000,000,000 and imports $35,000,000,000.

International trade increased 53 per cent between 1913 and 1928. Most of the apparent gain was said to have been the result of price increases. Experts estimated that prices are from 40 to 45 per cent higher than in 1913, with the quantitative increase in the trade of these countries about 10 per cent.

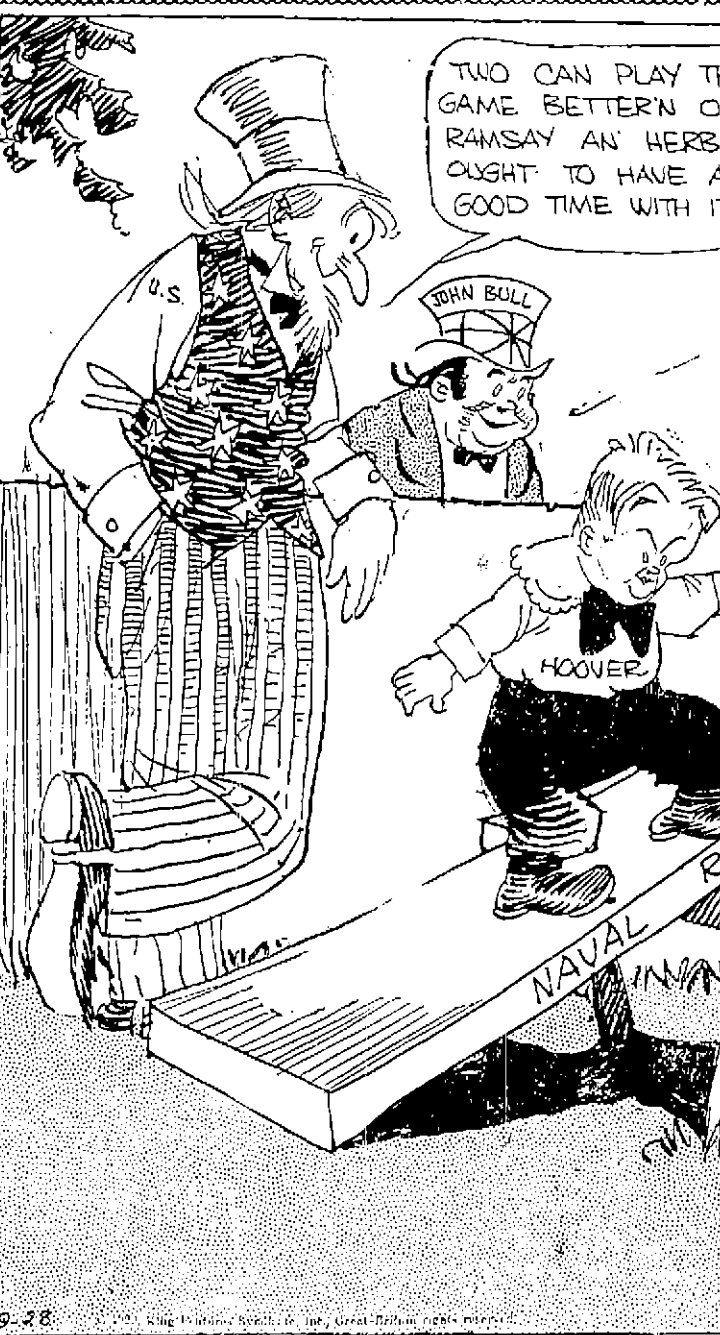

"Such an increase but little exceeds the growth in world population and is in conspicuous contrast with the steady advance in world trade on a per capita basis, for a long period preceding 1914," Kral said.

"Since our trade was much less demoralized by the war than that of the leading European countries, the 1928 figures for the United States showed a much greater increase in value than those for the world as a whole. The share of this country in world exports which had been 12.3 in 1913 rose to 16.6 in 1928, while its participation in the import trade increased even more sharply."

"Since 1923 American trade has increased less than that of the rest of the world, as must be expected from the fact that many of the other countries were recovering from an extreme cut in their international commerce resulting from the war. In 1923 exports of this country represented 15.6 per cent of the total exports of the world, and its corresponding shares of imports was 11.7 per cent."

Fifty Alleged Slayers Hunted

Start Wholesale Cleanup Of Of Three Big States To Get Rid Of "Vice Ring"

UNITED STATES ATTORNEY ACTIVE

(International News Service) BOSTON, Sept. 30.—A nation-wide hunt was launched today by Department of Justice agents for 50 murderers, the latest development in the search for the slayer of Samuel R. Heston, New York fur dealer and alleged "white slave" racketeer, slain here.

The drive, which was described also as a "cleanup" of the "vice rackets" in Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts was initiated by United States Attorney Frederick H. Tarr. It was Tarr who had made the startling statement that 50 unexplained slayings in this country were directly attributable to the so-called "vice-ring."

Plans for the nation-wide drive were discussed today by Tarr, Assistant United States Attorney Thomas T. Cooke of New York and Assistant District Attorney Frederick Doyle of Boston, in charge of the Rheimstein investigation.

Meanwhile the local probe centered around the questioning today of two women in connection with the slaying of New York fur dealer, Federal officials interviewed Miss Margaret Wheeler, of Baltimore, the sweetheart of the slain man, and Miss Betty Mart of Pottstown, Pa., they were questioned in connection with the "white slave ring" activities here and in Pennsylvania.

The district attorney of York, Pa., it was learned, requested local authorities to question Harry Malaga of Easton, Pa., held here regarding an unsolved murder case in York.

Lock Haven Bridge Open For Traffic

(International News Service) LOCK HAVEN, Sept. 30.—Completing the connection between the two sections of the new state highway the bridge over the west branch of the Susquehanna river is nearing readiness for traffic. The highway is expected to be thrown open next month.

The $250,000 structure running 1,200 feet across the river at Hyner is the connecting link in the $2,000,000 state highway system between Lock Haven and Hyner. This 18.8 miles has been the battle ground with nature for highway engineers for two years. Through woods and mountain sides the steep was thrust in one of the most difficult "jobs" in history of the highway department.

Most of the roadway is several hundred feet above the Susquehanna river at one point between Keating and Cook's Run the engineers removed 250,000 cubic yards of material to cut away a mountain.

Tells Different Tale

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—William B. (International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—William B. Shearer, the "big bass drum" of the 1927 Geneva arms conference, was called today before the senate committee investigating his activities to answer charges he "tried to wreck the conference." In a deep voice, in answer to the committee's inquiry as to identification he said: "William Baldwin Shearer, American, Christian, Protestant, national."

Here Senator Shortridge (R) of California interrupted to tell the stenographer to strike out all but the answer to my question.

Call Money Soars, Stocks Go Down

By W. S. COUSINS International News Service Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The banks crashed the money market today, making heavy withdrawals from the call loan market in connection with their billion-dollar October "settlements"; the call loan rate soared to 10 per cent, and the stocks went down.

Feeble resistance to selling pressure at the start of the new week held a few of the speculative leaders in line for a brief period, and prices in important steel, motor car and manufacturing stocks advanced a point or so. Before the end of the first hour, the selling wave carried everything before it as prices broke to the lowest levels on the move. The bears scored a victory in pushing down U. S. Steel to 22 1/2, a point

War Veterans In Convention

American Legion Members Gathering At Louisville

By HOMER H. METZ International News Service Staff Correspondent LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 30.—Between 25,000 and 30,000 World war veterans were in Louisville today for the opening of the eleventh annual convention of the American Legion.

By tomorrow, it is expected, the total of visiting veterans will have swelled to approximately 50,000, making the 1929 sessions by far the greatest gathering of war survivors in history.

The convention formally opened this morning in the national guard armory with the calling of the roll and the reading of the annual report by National Commander Paul D. McNutt. McNutt, it is expected, will tell of the legion's activity during 1929 and the hopes of the organization for 1930. The visiting delegates will be welcomed in ball of Kentucky by Gov. Flom D. Samsom.

Other high spots on today's program will be the reading of committee reports, a military flying circus at the local airport, the American legion handicap at Churchill Downs, the national commanders' dinner and a general meeting of all convention committees.

Although the annual meeting is not yet 24 hours old the various posts who have sent delegates here are already engaged in trying to have the 1930 convention assigned to their cities.

International News Service has been authoritatively informed that next year's convention will be held either in Boston, Mass., or Los Angeles, with the new England city being slightly favored in the consideration.

One of the usual features of this year's convention is the great number of posts' bands that are present. Virtually every state in the union is represented by one or more musical teams.

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The result of the government's investigation into the fatal T. A. T. airplane crash in New Mexico in which eight persons were killed, will not be made public, Secretary of Commerce Lamont announced today.

Lamont stated that the department of commerce has no legal protection against damage suits, such as is possessed by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and consequently will not make public the results of its investigation of air accidents.

Adjudge Honor Pupils By Special Method

Comprehensive Plan Worked Out By Junior High
Instructor

ARRANGEMENT IS NOW IN OPERATION

A new arrangement whereby all worthy students will be recognized for meritorious work, they accomplish, thought to be one of the most comprehensive and complete methods ever devised for a local school, has been introduced at the George Washington Junior High School. The pupils have already been made familiar with the plan and reaction towards it is highly favorable.

The plan is complete all but in a few respects. Its plan of operation was described today by Donald Copson, instructor at the school and originator of the system.

All schools find it difficult to determine honor students with the greatest of accuracy although it is the aim of every school to portion honors to students in just such measure as they merit it. The plan which Copson has drafted is in every respect a matter-of-fact scheme which comprises every fundamental of school life, which in the end is regarded as the most important functions of Junior High School.

Scholarship is given a chief place in the new plan. Other sections include such things as citizenship, qualities and extra-scholastic activities. To win recognition a student must first credit himself with a certain degree of scholastic work before he is eligible for an award. Other requirements are also included in the citizenship and extra-scholastic divisions.

Speaking of the citizenship qualities which a student is required to show to a certain extent, Mr. Copson said they are similar to those upon which the American Legion medals are awarded. When the entire year has reached a close, teachers will compile the points of the students in every division, total them and place him in the semester's standing.

Points in the extra-scholastic section can be obtained through such activities as the student senate, home room officers, band member, "Junior Citizen" staff member, chorus, and down through to cheer leader, member of the hall patrol staff and other activities. Eighteen chances are given whereby the pupil can win points. Points are given for almost everything but the number given will vary according to their activity's importance.

Certain provisions have been listed by Mr. Copson relative to the awards. All students scoring scholarship points in any year are to be considered candidates for the honors award for that year. To the scholarship points of each candidate will then be added the points he or she had scored for the year in extra-scholastic activities, citizenship, service, athletics and clubs. No student dropping from school before the end of any year shall be considered a candidate for the award that year.

At the close of every year a recognition banquet is given at Washington High School in honor of the students who make the required number of points during that year.

Past Presidents

Night Planned

P. H. C. Is Arranging For Series
Of Fall Social Events

On the calendar of social events to be carried out throughout the fall and winter season by New Castle Circle No. 5, Protected Home Circle, programs of unusual merit are nearing completion for a series of entertainments which will add new honors to the committees in charge of the social activities of the Circle.

Perhaps one of the very best numbers of the programs will be the opening feature of the season, observed as Past Presidents' night on Wednesday, October 16, and the Circle looks forward to a session of the most imposing character at this time. As those present enjoying the stations will be past presidents officers representing the forty-third year of the existence of the Circle—there will be a short but interesting program, followed with lunch and a general gathering together will renew old friendships and recall fond memories of years gone by.

Invitations will be sent all past presidents available, but many living still in close proximity to New Castle and with changed addresses it will be hard to locate them. A general invitation is extended through The News. The committee on arrangements is requested to again meet at the office of Past President A. L. Conn on Tuesday night.

The regular meeting of the Circle will be held on Wednesday night, when matters of importance must receive the attention of the members, note please the change in the hour and all officers are expected to be in their stations at 7:30 o'clock Standard time.

FIRST CHRISTIAN TROOP 15
The members of the Scout troop No. 15 held their weekly meeting on September 24 in the First Christian church. The meeting was in charge of Scoutmaster Glenn Montgomery and George McCracken. Rev. G. S. Bennett was a special guest of the troop.

The patrol leaders and troop officials held a meeting before the regular troop meeting. Programs were outlined for the meeting next week and instructions were given for the immediate meeting.

The meeting was opened by a color ceremony and the pledge to the flag. This was followed by the Scout oath, led by Scout Raymond Bennett. A short but very instructive talk was given on safety first by Assistant Scoutmaster Glenn Montgomery. Scoutmaster Sidney Smith gave a talk on first aid, covering the first aid requirements for a second-class Scout. Ralph Montgomery and Elliott Francis demonstrated different pressure points on the human body, using Raymond Bennett as the victim. The knowledge of pressure points is very essential in the checking of hemorrhages.

Each Scout in the troop who has not passed the second-class first aid requirements will pass them at the next meeting, which will be held on Tuesday evening, Oct. 1, at 7:30 in the First Christian church.

The meeting was closed by Elliott Francis.

Three Are Hurt In Auto Mishaps

Reports Of Numerous Accidents Are Made To Police Over Week End

In one of the numerous accidents reported to the police of this city, three persons were more or less severely injured. Considerable damage to cars was reported in the various accidents.

W. E. Spangler of 934 Beckford street, was enroute west on East Linton street this morning when the car of A. B. Fauzey 733 Chestnut street, enroute east on the same street side-swipe the former's car.

Both made reports of the accident and agree to the effect that the Fauzey car hit the curb and then bounced into the street hitting the damaging the Spangler car.

The Spangler report goes farther, alleging that Mr. Fauzey was driving his machine at a high rate of speed, when noticed considerable distance away. Owing to the speed according to Mr. Spangler the Fauzey car failed to properly negotiate the curve at this point and went into the curb and then bounced out and hit the Spangler car as it was passing.

Dorothy Spangler daughter of the owner of the Spangler machine, sustained severe injuries of the left side from the steering wheel and pieces of the glass from the windshield went into her eye. Ruby Kuhn, 935 Beckford street who was riding in the car sustained a severe cut on the right foot from the flying glass and also an injury of the head. Mr. Spangler was hurt on the left hip.

Other Accidents.
F. G. Audino of 307 Shaw street, was enroute east on Washington street at Jefferson street when his machine collided with the car of J. L. Moore which was going north on South Jefferson street. Both machines were damaged.

Catherin Melvin of 223 East Wallace avenue, reported that she was driving north on Jefferson street at the north side of the public square when P. and O. bus No. 513 ran into the rear of her machine doing some damage.

Scott Shaner of R. D. No. 4 reported that he was going west on Washington street near Meier street when a car bearing Pennsylvania license A. 45-965 backing out from the curb collided with and damaged his car.

Nick Sniezick of 1805 Moravia street reported that his machine was damaged when a car bearing Pennsylvania license C. 51-128 pulled out from the curb on East Long avenue and collided with his machine.

Named as Confidant of Shearer

Rear Admiral J. M. Reeves, member of the American Technical Staff at the Geneva Disarmament conference last year, was named by Drew Pearson, newspaperman, appearing before the Senate Investigating Committee, as a close associate of William B. Shearer during the Geneva conference. Admiral Reeves is reported to have frequently expressed himself as hoping "the conference would not succeed."

Three Are Killed In Roof Cave-In

(International News Service) (BULLSTIN)
PERU, Ind., Sept. 30.—Three men were instantly killed here today when with a roar that startled the business section the rear roof of an old building, just east of the City Hall, caved in and buried them. The building, an old landmark, was being torn down.

The dead were:
Charles Cunningham, 55, former sheriff of Miami county.
John Einsler, 60, a prominent farmer.

Frank Einsler, 26, his son.
A fourth man, S. O. Busby, 45, who was on top of the roof, escaped unhurt.

FOUR ARE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH NEAR KANE, PENNA.

Mary's a few minutes before 7 o'clock last night in spite of foggy weather. A half hour later the plane was heard flying over Kane. The ship seemed in distress, residents said, and it flew back and forth over the town before heading for an open field near here.

Throws Out Flare.
The pilot threw out a flare and turned on his landing lights but seemed too low. Before the flare enabled him to see it the plane clipped the top of a tree and nose dived into the field.

All of the men in the cabin were thrown clear of the wreckage and instantly killed. Miss Davis was found in the tangled mass of wreckage and died a half hour later in the Kane Summit hospital.

National guardsmen are guarding the wreck of the Travelair cabin plane today and H. Clay Heffner of Bradford is conducting an inquiry into the accident. It is believed that Emery was having motor trouble at the same time that he was battling the fog, for a pair of pilots was found almost within his grasp.

Founder Of Report.
Emery was the founder of the Bradford Airport and an experienced pilot. He won third place in the New York-Spokane Air Derby in 1927 and had won numerous other racing prizes throughout the United States.

Residents of Johnsonburg, 15 miles southeast of here, reported that the plane was flying at an extremely low altitude when it passed over there a few minutes before the fatal crash. It narrowly escaped crashing into a tall chimney of a mill there, it was said.

News of the accident brought hundreds of motorists from Bradford to catch a glimpse of the wreckage. Guards were kept busy protecting it. The airport at St. Mary's from which the party had started on the fatal trip is named the Emery Field in honor of Harris Emery, the dead pilot.

Flies Extremely Low.
It was reported that airport officials at the Emery Field had tried to persuade Emery not to take off because of the fog but that he was eager to get his passengers back to Bradford, and went ahead.

He first got lost over Johnsonburg, it is believed, where he was first reported flying extremely low.

Hundreds of residents in the vicinity of Kane heard the motor of the ship beating irregularly as it flew back and forth overhead. Emery kept cutting off and restarting the motor, they reported. He then headed for a pasture on the edge of town, but eventually failed to see the row of trees at the edge of the field, with the aid of his landing lights and threw out the flare as he hit one of them.

The disaster cast a mantle of gloom over the entire section for Emery was one of the pioneer pilots in this vicinity and all of his passengers were well known in this part of the state.

POLICE FIND STOLEN BICYCLE

William S. Hyde, 1201 Wilmington avenue, reported Saturday that a Delux bicycle, olive green in color and trimmed in red and green, had been stolen from his place some time during the night of September 27. It was found and brought to the office by Detective John Young and Officer Thomas Lynch.

Bank Robber Is Brought Back To Greensburg Today

Fourth Member Of Trafford City Bank Robbing Gang Back From Salt Lake City

(International News Service) GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 30.—William Gillespie, believed to have been the fourth member of the gang of robbers who held up the First National Bank at Trafford on November 23, 1928, obtaining about $5,000 in cash, today was at the state police barracks here.

Gillespie was returned from Salt Lake City, Utah, last night by Sergeant Frank J. Gleson of Troop A, State Police, who made the trip to the western city last week. According to state police, Gillespie admits he participated in the robbery and escaped with part of the loot. He has been indicted by the grand jury on charges of bank robbery, carrying deadly concealed weapons and pointing firearms. He will probably be given a hearing today before Justice of the peace Joseph A. Walton.

Gillespie was nabbed in Salt Lake City after he had held up and robbed a drug store. He was recognized as the man wanted in Pennsylvania from police circulars and was turned over to state police because of the greater seriousness of his crime her.

ONE IS KILLED, THREE INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

They were seen by Governor J. P. Goldy, who is investigating the case. Wocokovich's condition was so serious that he could give no explanation of the accident further than to say he did not know how it happened.

Miller and Frank Soloppek were of the opinion that Wocokovich, the driver, had lost his bearings in the fog and ran off the road.

State Highway Patrolman E. C. Paul, who was at the scene of the accident soon after it occurred, was of the opinion that the car had been coming toward this city at a high rate of speed, as it had turned over several times and was completely wrecked. He made a search of the wreck for liquor, but none was found. Physicians who dressed the injuries of the driver also stated that they did not notice the odor of liquor, so from the evidence now at hand it appears that the men were not intoxicated.

According to the story of Frank Soloppek the New Castle men had left New Castle Saturday evening to visit friends in Youngstown. They remained at the home of their friends until after midnight and when they started to come home Frank Miller or Youngstown accompanied them.

Andy Soloppek was a member of St. Michael's church on Moravia street, also the Croatian society of West Pittsburg. Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 10 a. m. in St. Michael's church. Interment will be made in St. Joseph's cemetery.

American Industrial Outlook Is Good For Remainder Of Year

Francis H. Sisson, Banker And Economist, Says Basic Industry At New High Rate

Employment Has Increased; Money Is Firm; No Trace Of Inflation In Commodity Prices

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor
Copyright, 1929, International News Service
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—"American basic industries are operating at an appreciably higher rate than at this time last year, despite the spread of the seasonal let-down that was observed a month or two ago."

"There is not the slightest trace of inflation in commodity prices. The transportation situation is excellent."

"Stocks of manufactured goods are only slightly, if at all, above normal in relation to output and demand."

"Money is firm and all present indications point to continued firmness. Employment increases."

"Employment has increased and the general expectation is that business will be well maintained during the remainder of the year."

Francis H. Sisson, banker and economist, vice president of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, one of America's keenest observers of financial and economic conditions, thus summarized current business and the immediate outlook in an exclusive interview with International News Service today.

Mr. Sisson declared that the advance of the rediscount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York last month had produced no startling results, either on the security markets or on the money situation.

"With industrial activity at a remarkably high level, and optimism general among business leaders, the financial markets have been watched closely for any sign of unfavorable developments that might rest on general business. The advance of the rediscount rate has produced no startling results," Sisson declared, taking up matters more specifically.

At High Levels
He pointed out that the holdings of banker's bills bought in the open market by reserve banks have increased considerably, while the volume of banker's acceptances has mounted to the highest figure ever reported at this time of year. Although the rate advance at New York has been followed by a decline in rediscounts, the total amount of reserve credit in use has increased. Brokers' loans in New York City are much larger than when the rediscount rate was raised.

"Employment has increased as the high levels of general business activity has been maintained," said Sisson, pointing out also that the increase in employment is not only evidence of larger output and trade, but also a favorable sign for the future, since expanding purchasing power is made available for the buying of consumers' goods. Continuing his survey of domestic business conditions, Sisson said:

Motor Cars Lead
"Among the industries that sell their products direct to consumers, the automobile industry has occupied the most conspicuous position. The phenomenal rate of motor-car production so far this year has been reflected in the large demand for certain basic commodities, such as steel and copper. Recent reports show that dealers' stocks of automobiles are increasing heavily, due to some extent, to re-stocking with new models. But current estimates of total production for the year point to a considerable recession in plant operations over the remaining months."

The building industry, another important consumer of steel and immovable other raw materials, is still active in comparison with any other period except the recent past. There has been a material decrease in new buildings since last year.

"Although erection of residential and commercial buildings appears to have receded to definitely lower levels, the enormous volume of highway construction and, to a less extent, the expansion of the public-utility industry, are strong sustaining factors and will doubtless continue to be so."

Foreign Trade Staple
"The country's foreign trade is in an exceptionally healthy condition. Both exports and imports so far this year have easily exceeded 1928 totals. Since there has been no advance in commodity prices during the year, the increase in dollar totals represent genuine expansion in the volume of shipments. The export surpluses have been reduced by abnormally large imports, due apparently to the anticipation of higher tariff rates under the pending bill."

"The general expectation among business men appears to be that business in this country will be well maintained during the remainder of the year."

Watch Tongue For Signs of Illness
Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90 per cent of all sicknesses start with stomach and bowel trouble.

A white or yellowish coating on your tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders. It tells you why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach, dizzy spells.

And it's a sign you need Tanlac. This good old reliable medicine has helped thousands who were physical wrecks. See how the first bottle helps you.

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs; it is made of barks, berries and roots—nature's own medicines for the sick. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

SUGAR A KEY TO TASTEFUL COOKERY

To Overlook This Wonder Flavor Is to Miss the Joy of Eating

Scientific authorities are alarmed that tasteful cookery has reached such a low ebb in the United States. Flavor affects diet and diet affects health. We can't keep well without eating the various foods that our bodies need. We can't be expected to force ourselves to eat varieties of food if we do not like them.

Every woman who is responsible for the diet of a family is to that large extent responsible for its health. Realizing this, a group of women cooking experts have been working to find what could be done to make meals more delicious. They concentrated on vegetables, for these important foods are so likely to be bland and unappetizing. They made a series of now notable experiments. They uncovered an old secret that had been lost. Use a dash of sugar, added to vegetables while they are cooking (preferably in a little water).

This addition of a dash of sugar does not make the vegetables taste sweet. It brings up all those poignant, natural flavors that mean so much to the sense of enjoyment.

Help your family to enjoy vegetables. Just try a dash of sugar in cooking peas, lima beans, string beans, corn, carrots, beets, parsnips, sweet potatoes, squash, onions and tomatoes—and taste the difference. Remember the value of something sweet for dessert. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

year; and that employment, wage levels, and corporate earnings will be large. The volume of business is already so large that no great expansion is to be anticipated. In most lines no such development could occur without creating an unhealthy situation. It is also admitted that business activity on the whole is distinctly above its long-term normal, and that some readjustment will be necessary sooner or later."

Sisson believes that such a readjustment might easily be effected without serious disturbance, as was done at the end of 1927, especially if America adheres to the sound and constructive policies that made possible the quick recovery from the severe depression of 1921. And avoids the speculative temptations that present themselves in times of prosperity.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Sept. 30.—Margaret Agostoni, 18, of New Eagle, was fatally hurt and her sister Mary 22 seriously hurt when their automobile was struck by a bus on the Monongahela-Finleyville highway near Riverview.

The girl's small car was said to have been struck by the bus when Margaret the driver attempted to turn around on the road. The motor coach was owned by the Pittsburgh Railway company, Mr. and Mrs. Piero Agostoni are the girl's parents.

Crash Kills Girl Driver; Hurts Guest
ERIE, Pa., Sept. 30.—Dolores Yeager 19, a member of the senior class of Academy high school here, was instantly killed and her companion Frances King, 18, was seriously hurt when an automobile driven by the Yeager girl failed to make a turn one-half mile north of Venango in Crawford county. South Africa May Quit Great Britain
(International News Service)
CAPE TOWN, Sept. 30.—A new movement, started in Pretoria, in the Transvaal to establish a Republicanism Society aiming at a severance of the tie with the British Empire, is the result of the South African Empire's Journal, "Oms Land." The sponsors of the movement propose to break away from the empire on purely constitutional lines.

The promoters, it is explained, desire a South African Republic, not a Dutch Republic, embracing all white citizens irrespective of race or religion.

As a first step towards this end, the movement is calling for a revision of the Act of Union, and while it desires to maintain a friendly, even an allied relationship with the British Empire, its draft constitution objects to the British crown on the grounds that loyalty to King George V implies a bond and duty to a foreign power, which "upsets our internal racial relations and leaves us open to the danger of undesirable foreign interference."

It objects to any legal bond with the empire as part of the empire because it implies a diplomatic unity and co-operative imperialism; also because it is unnecessary for safety or progress of South Africa.

In Jail 18 Years Out Short Time At 34
BOSTON, Sept. 30.—A man who first lost his liberty at the age of thirteen, and has spent eighteen years of his life in various penal institutions, is going back to jail again to serve from nine to twelve years for stealing two automobiles. Samuel McAllister, thirty-four-year-old native of Rockport, Me., was found guilty of the theft of the two machines in Middlesex Criminal Court by a jury and was given the sentence in State Prison by Judge Frederick W. Fosdick.

Expedition Will Explore Turkestan
MOSCOW, Sept. 30.—Equipped with three tons of supplies, 9,000 feet of motion picture film and hunting paraphernalia, the Mordén-Graves North Asiatic Expedition of the American Museum of Natural History left today for Turkestan.

The expedition will hunt for specimens of the saiga antelope and other animals for the museum. The saiga antelope is a reddish sheep-like animal frequenting the Steppes of Russia and Persia.

This is the first foreign expedition permitted by the Russian government to enter the forbidden confines of this little known part of the Asiatic Russia since before the war.

Driver Is Injured When Auto Upsets
RIDGWAY, Pa., Sept. 30.—When his car overturned on the Ridgway-St. Marys road, Arnold Knapp of Ridgway was seriously injured. The young man was driving and in some manner lost control of his car. It ran into the side of the road and turned completely over. Mr. Knapp's skull was fractured and his recovery is doubtful.

Council Out To Ban Promenading In Nude
CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 30.—Just what has been going on among the 500 residents of Brooklawn, a town ten miles from here, was not divulged, but the Borough Council last night found it expedient to pass a new ordinance, some of the more striking features of which are:

The pleasure of burning bridges is to be denied all residents.

Nude walking will not be permitted in the streets.

Breaking windows and throwing snowballs are prohibited.

If a citizen's horse dies, it will not be permitted to lie on the sidewalk.

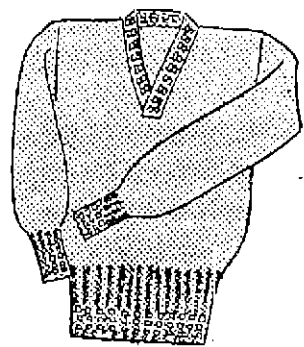

Women cannot wear men's clothing, or vice versa.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of The World War
127—American Troops Ordered To France

CONVINCED THAT MONTHS OF INTENSIVE TRAINING WOULD BE REQUIRED BEFORE A LARGE AMERICAN ARMY COULD TAKE ITS PLACE BESIDE THE ALLIES IN THE TRENCHES OF FRANCE, THE UNITED STATES WAR DEPARTMENT DECIDED TO KEEP OUR TROOPS IN THIS COUNTRY, WHERE THEY COULD BE SUPPLIED EASILY, FOR THE GREATER PART OF THE NECESSARY INSTRUCTION PERIOD, AFTER WHICH THEY WOULD BE SENT TO FRANCE FOR FINAL TRAINING.

THE GERMANS, BASING THEIR PREDICTION ON GREAT BRITAIN'S EXPERIENCE IN DEVELOPING A MIGHTY FORCE, ESTIMATED THAT THE UNITED STATES COULD NOT HAVE AN ADEQUATE ARMY READY IN LESS THAN TWO YEARS, AND PROPOSED TO REDOUBLE THEIR EFFORTS TO CRUSH THE ALLIES BEFORE HELP FROM AMERICA COULD ARRIVE.

MARSHAL JOFFRE, THEN IN THE UNITED STATES AS A MEMBER OF THE FRENCH WAR MISSION, APPEARED TO PRESIDENT WILSON TO DISPATCH AN AMERICAN FORCE TO FRANCE AT ONCE. HE POINTED OUT THAT THE APPEARANCE OF AMERICAN SOLDIERS AMONG THE FRENCH WOULD GIVE NEW HEART TO THE WEARY AND DISCOURAGED "POILUS".

REALIZING THE MORAL VALUE OF SUCH A STEP, THE PRESIDENT ON MAY 11, 1917, GAVE ORDERS THAT ONE AMERICAN DIVISION BE SENT TO FRANCE AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. IT WAS DECIDED THAT THIS FORCE SHOULD BE COMPOSED OF REGULAR ARMY TROOPS THAT WERE THEN ON DUTY ALONG THE MEXICAN BORDER.

THE DIVISION WAS HASTILY ASSEMBLED AND IN THE FOLLOWING MONTH ELEMENTS OF THIS FIRST COMBAT FORCE TO BE SENT TO EUROPE BEGAN EMBARKING IN TRANSPORTS AND SECRETLY SAILING FOR A PORT "SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE." TOMORROW—PERSHING CHOSEN TO COMMAND A. E. F.

FANS TO THRONG JOLLY BOWL TONIGHT

Kosky To Meet Willie Michele

Michele Turned In Victory Over Johnny Farr Wednesday Night

KOSKY HAS NOT LOST IN OVER TWO YEARS

FAY KOSKY (Kosky To Meet Willie Michele)

By ED FRITZ

Fay Kosky and Willie Michele, featherweights, say it with boxing gloves tonight at Jolly Bowl and it appears as though the consistent winners will strut their stuff before a throng that may tax the capacity of Bill Jolly's arena. They're scheduled to go 10 rounds and the weight will be 130, or under. The first bout will start at 8:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Michele's first and only appearance in this section occurred Wednesday night when he defeated Johnny Farr of Cleveland before approximately 12,000 fans at Youngstown. It was his first bout since he returned from Belgium. Prior to going there he had fought Earl Mastro, Davy Abad, Al Greenfield, Midget Mike O'Dowd, Al Trupoli and Pete Nebel. Floored Earl Mastro

He upset the dope when he floored Mastro in Chicago. Earl is no man's sap and the fight was filled with thrills. The other bouts were akin to the Mastro-Michele affair and the Belgian featherweight champion soon earned a solid seat in the higher rank of pugilism in the United States. When he journeyed to Belgium, he stayed several weeks and upon his return to America joined the Orangeburg, N. Y., camp of Gus Wilson who trained Georges Carpentier and Jack Dempsey.

Kosky is of Polish-Irish stock and was born in California and after taking to the fight game crawled up the ladder of pugilism. He defeated Baby Sal, Ignacio Fernandez, twice, went to Chicago, had Eddie Shea on the floor in the third round and got a Chicago decision—a draw as Chicago is Shea's domicile. He walloped Harry Forbes, Johnny O'Keefe, Henry Perlick, Harry LaBarre then came here.

Kosky Going Very Good

Kosky tied to the Jolly bowl here and walloped Jackie Dugan in 10 rounds, journeyed westward again and beat Lou Terry at Memphis. Terry is the chap who gave Sammy Mandell a close fight. He defeated Benny Dukes at Kalamazoo and Chuck Feldman at Toledo. Most of his opponents had weight advantages but it didn't matter to Kosky.

He's back here tonight to box Michele, probably the cleverest fighter he has been called to face. Kosky is a southpaw and Willie is in orthodox style fighter. They arrived here yesterday, lousened up at Di ne's gymnasium and weighed in at three o'clock this afternoon. According to ring worms tonight's encounter should be a classic.

Moody To Box Farr

Leo Moody the Erie flyweight and Mickie Farr, brother to Johnny Cleveland, will box in the semi-final. Moxie Miller, of Cleveland and Battling Thomas, Rochester, N. Y., lightweights will go on in the six round preliminary. It will be the first appearance of Farr, Miller and Thomas.

Young Flunow, a heavyweight in Jimmie Dunn's stable will meet Jim McKee of Sagamore, Pa. They weigh 185. It will be their first start. There will be another four round bout and the doors will open at 7:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time. The bell will ring at 8:30 p. m. E. S. T.

Davies Manager, Buchanan, Here

Jim Buchanan, manager of Willie Davies, accompanied by Willie's brother, was here last night. Efforts to match Davies with Phil Tobias to match Buchanan said Davies is failed for a month and then will try to land one of the bouts in a proposed heavyweight elimination tourney in New York City.

Slippery Rock Loses Close One

Dukes Take 12-0 Victory From State Teacher's College

DeCARBO PLAYS IN PART OF CONTEST

By SEBASTIAN C. ISABELLA, Special Correspondent to The News. BLUFF FIELD, PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—Playing under a blistering sun the red and blue gridiron warriors of Duquesne university easily defeated the strong Slippery Rock State Teachers college gridironers on this field Saturday, 12-0.

After a poor start in the first quarter the Coach Lyden machine functioned to perfection in the second period. "Doggo" Burns dashed through the Teachers right side for a total of 35 yards and a marker. Burns had been out of football frays since the memorable Wash-Jeff affair, when his knee was injured. He will see plenty of service in the Mountaineer setto Saturday.

Slippery Rock threw a scare into the Buffmen camp in the second period when a punt was returned, carrying the ball to the Dukes 5-yard line. A line plunge brought the ball to the three. On the next play Gumbert fumbled behind the line of scrimmage. Benny Barrett, sub center from South high of Youngstown, recovered for the Layentiles. This break was costly to the Teachers, being the last time to endanger the Dukes.

Coach Thompson's machine scored five first downs, two of which were donated via penalties. The Duquesne cohorts totaled 14 firsts. The battle was marred with several injuries. An injury to the groin laid Maesch Silvestein, star center of the Dukes, out in the second quarter Duquesne End, Sammy Pratt's right eye required one stitch. "Babe" Kelleher, guard, had the right eye closed. Only one Slippery Rock player suffered with an injury—a wrenched ankle suffered by Hartman.

In the fourth quarter Captain Butt Donnell started right wing for 11 yards to score the final counter of the day. Several line plunges by the Four Ghosts, Donnell, Benedict, Kovalechick and McCarthy, brought the ball near scoring vantage. Nick DeCarbo, guard, of New Castle figured in the scoring. DeCarbo displayed the former New Castle high aggressiveness as guard during the play. He also played remarkably well before and after the scoring play.

For the losers, Gumbert, Nesbit sub for Gumbert and Lutz played a stellar game. Lally, Silvestein, Barrett, centers; Raymond Kemp, tackle; Leonard and Ferrare, guards; the Four Ghosts, Donnell, Benedict, Kovalechick and McCarthy, showed up well for the red and blue.

Other New Castle boys to see action were Glenn Thomas at center and Earl Turk at half.

Dempsey's Show May Be Sellout

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Jack Dempsey (the ring promoter will be just as much a success as Jack Dempsey the trader in fistfights was), it was indicated today with reports of the advance sale for his first show here Wednesday night in the Coliseum.

Sale of seats thus far has been phenomenal and if the demand continues, there is reason to believe that the former heavyweight champion will have a capacity gathering.

Titan Eleven Show Strength In Face Of Overwhelming Odds In New York

Michaels and Dible Best Bet In Backfield; Pipoly And Dombrowski Great On Line

By CHARLES "BUGS" WALTHER, Staff Correspondent

FORDHAM, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Fighting a courageous battle against overwhelming odds, a scrappy light Westminster College football team, aided Fordham College in prying off the 1929 gridiron lid, Saturday afternoon. The big Maroon eleven scored seven touchdowns to take a 43 to 0 victory. The Titans showed potential strength even in the face of the lopsided beating. Six thousand fans witnessed the game. The weather was perfect with a warm sun heating down on the field.

Westminster Outweighed

Outweighed man for man to the extent of 15 to 20 pounds the Westminster team contested every inch of the ground. The real story is told in the first downs. Fordham had eleven and Westminster had seven. The Titans and there were plenty of them favored Fordham.

Coach "Dike" Beede, was satisfied with the manner in which his comparatively green team fought the Maroon herd. The United Presbyterians had almost a veteran line, but the backfield was a new one. With Harry Michaels directing the team after replacing Merriman, the Westminsterers picked up courage and gave the Major Cavanaugh clan many a scare.

The New Yorkers scored a touchdown in the first four minutes of play on a forward pass from Murphy to Fischer. The pass was good for 15 yards, and Fischer ran 20 yards after catching it. Before the first quarter was over McMahon took the ball on the Westminster 41 yard line, and scampered the entire distance to the goal-line.

The game was clean and hard-fought. The penalties were few. Titans Unscathed

Westminster came out of the struggle unscathed except for a charity-home suffered by Dible and a slightly injured shoulder for Dick Fuller. Beede sent a backfield into the game that promises to develop into a powerful combination. It consisted of Michaels at quarter, Dible and Haldy at the halves and Deacle at fullback. With this set of ball toters in class B competition the Titans are going to be hard to beat.

The New Yorkers, realizing that Westminster was outclassed in playing Fordham, expressed the opinion that they would like to see the Titans up against a good class B school.

Left side of the Westminster line, with Pipoly, Dombrowski and Cleland playing a strong defensive game, blocked the efforts of the Maroon backs in more than one charge intended to carry through for a touchdown. The absence of Captain "Chappie" Boone at center was felt, although George Cebula, former Campbell, O., grid star, filled the shoes of the sterling leader in line play, and at that he was the lightest man in the game, tipping the scales around 152.

Fordham tried 10 passes and made good seven of them. Westminster attempted six passes and completed two of them.

At the start of the game Fordham won the toss and elected to kick, with Tracy booting the ball to Haldy, who came back five yards before being downed. Michaels and Pipoly tried two bucks at the line, but failed to gain much headway. Michaels fumbled and Fischer recovered for Fordham on the 45-yard line. The Fordham backs, McMahon, Murphy and Cullen, alternated in carrying the ball to the 25-yard line. Fischer took a pass from Murphy and ran 20 yards for a touchdown. Tracey failed to kick the extra point.

On the next kick-off Dible received the ball and carried it from the five-yard line to the 24-yard mark. Westminster lost and recovered the ball on a series of fumbles by both teams. Dible pulled off a seven-yard run at left end for the biggest distance gained by the Titans. Haldy booted to Fischer who skirted through the field for 15 yards to the Westminster 41-yard line. McMahon ran left and for 40 yards and the second touchdown for Fordham. Tracey again failed to kick the extra point. At this juncture Coach Beede yanked Merriman and sent Michaels to the quarterback post, with Dible and Haldy at the halves and Deacle, the Sharpville boy, at fullback.

Joe Pipoly was the big gun for the Westminster team on the defense. This boy, breaking up many plays and doing fine work carrying the ball on the end-around play. The end of the first quarter found Westminster in possession of the ball on their own 35-yard line after Haldy had received a punt from Tracey. Score: Fordham 12, Westminster 0.

Titans Tighten Up

The second quarter found the United Presbyterians with their backs to the wall and fighting gamely. Fordham tallied but one touchdown in the second period, this coming as a result of a forward pass, Fischer to Elcewicz, good for 30 yards and a marker, and this late in the quarter. There was quite a lot of fumbling by both teams at this stage of the game. The half ended with the ball in mid-field.

Westminster, with Michaels throwing passes, failed to complete two heaves in the second quarter. Fordham was awake when it came to breaking up the aerial attack of the Beede machine. The score at the half was 18-0.

Entire New Team

When Fordham appeared on the field for the start of the third quarter Coach Cavanaugh had placed an entire new team on the field.

Brownie replaced Tweedy for Westminster. Bartos who now directed the Fordham team in place of Fischer kicked off to Dible who made five yards thru the Fordham team before being downed. Westminster lost the ball on a fumble, which was recovered by Conway for Fordham.

Conway on the next play took a 20 yard pass from Bartos and ran 15 yards for the fourth touchdown. Bartos kicked the extra-point employing a drop-kick.

Bartos again kicked off and Dible taking the ball on his own five yard line returned 35 yards. Haldy worked the "spinner play" for a first down and the ball was recovered by Davis on the 50 yard line. Westminster held, and Bartos booted one behind the goal line, and it was Westminster's ball on the 20-yard line. A fumble by Westminster gave Fordham the ball in scoring position.

Fordham began a steady drive down the field and it ended when Bartos crashed thru for a touchdown from the 5-yard line. Bartos missed the try for another point.

Bartos kicked off for Fordham and the ball went deep into Westminster territory, and things looked bad, but Dible took it and made five yards. Michaels made a first down on a plunge through tackle, good for 12 yards. Deacle and Haldy made nine yards between them, and then Haldy kicked to Fordham out of bounds.

Fordham had the ball on the Westminster 35 yard line when the quarter closed. Score Fordham 31-Westminster 0.

Fordham Scores Two More

The final quarter opened with Fordham in possession of the ball on the Westminster 35 yard line. A forward pass netted Fordham 13 yards. Sweet replaced Fuller for Westminster. Murphy secured a first down. Sweet replaced Cebula at center, and Cavanaugh sent Tobin into the game for Davis. Murphy plunged the ball over the line from the two yard mark. Bartos failed to kick the extra-point. Hall replaced Dible for Westminster. Score Fordham 37-Westminster 0.

Haldy made 25 yards after taking a kickoff from Bartos. Westminster fumbled and Fordham began another march to the goal-line, and it looked like another touchdown, but Michaels was alert and grabbed a pass intended for Murphy on about the eight yard line. Michaels ripped off a first down. Haldy made another first down by tearing through the line for 12 yards. Haldy went through again for nine yards. Westminster again fumbled and lost the ball. Campbell went in for Haldy at fullback. Bartos got away for a 24 yard run, and the ball was again close to the goal line. Bartos took it over on a line plunge making the score Fordham 43-Westminster 0. When the game was over Westminster had the ball on the 45 yard line.

Several Stars Crop Out

Michaels, Haldy, Dible and Pipoly were the stars in the Westminster lineup. For the Cavanaugh crew the work of Bartos and Fischer was outstanding. Captain Slater played a good game at center. Murphy and Elcewicz were good men on the Fordham offense.

The game was well handled by the officials.

Allegheny Next For Westminster

Coach Beede To Drill Titans Hard This Week In Preparation For Allegheny

Westminster College football team started a week of intensive training today. Saturday the Titans go to Meadville to battle Allegheny College. The United Presbyterians came out of the Fordham game in fine shape.

Coach "Dike" Beede is looking for a tough battle at Meadville this week. The Allegheny-Geneva game ended in a deadlock Saturday 13-13. The Crum coached machine showed strength.

Beede is going to experiment with a new backfield combination this week. Michaels will likely get the call to the quarterback post, as he showed rare judgment in the Fordham game. If Michaels comes through at quarter, it will mean that Deacle, former Sharpville boy will get the call to the fullback position.

Titans Complete Excellent Trip To Metropolis

Twenty-Eight In Westminster Party Making Fine Trip To New York City

By "BUGS"

Westminster College football team emulated in part, the Notre Dame grid team, over the past week-end, by making the 1,000 mile jaunt to New York City. Fordham won the game played at Fordham Field. The trip was a most enjoyable one. Andrew A. McDonald, graduate manager of the United Presbyterian school was in charge of the party.

The start for New York was made at 7:30 o'clock Friday morning via the Pennsylvania railroad. A chair-car had been chartered through to the Metropolis. The Westminster team reached New York shortly after 7 o'clock Eastern Standard time Friday night. Headquarters in New York were established at the Hotel Westworth on 46th street.

Alumni On Hand

Several Westminster alumni met the team at the train, and also at the hotel. During the stay of the team in New York, many of the alumni banded together and purchased theatre tickets. The boys took the show Saturday evening. The return trip from the "big town" was made at midnight Saturday by sleeper and at 10:38 o'clock Sunday morning the Westminster team landed in New Castle. A bus conveyed the team to New Wilmington.

Coach "Dike" Beede sent the Westminster team through a signal drill on the roof of the hotel on Saturday morning shortly before dinner. It was a snappy practice and quite new to the boys to be going through football maneuvers some 150 feet above the ground.

It was just seven years ago that a Westminster team played Fordham at New York City. The Titans were defeated by a score of 12 to 0.

Very Fine Treatment

The New Yorkers accorded the Westminster team every courtesy. The Fordham officials did everything to make the Westminster team comfortable. The treatment was fine.

Those in the Westminster party in addition to the squad were: Coach "Dike" Beede, Graduate Manager A. McDonald, Trainer Jack Holmes, W. O. Hawk, Professor R. X. Graham, Student Managers, Cosmos and Hildebrand and the writer.

The railroad officials and also the hotel men praised the Westminster team as the finest group of boys they had ever come in contact with. McDonald was a busy man attending to all the wants of the boys, and he did a fine job of managing them. Taking a party of 27 to New York City and back is a mean job, but "Andy" was equal to the occasion. Fordham would like to have the Titans back again.

If there's a railroad in Asia worth fighting for, it shows the bus salesmen have overlooked a good territory.

We suppose that when air travel becomes common the billboards along the highway will be uprooted and nailed on the houseposts to spell the scenery. The Little Rock Arkansas Democrat.

Robins Playing Better Baseball

Brooklyn Team Goes Into Tie With Phillies For Fifth Place In Standing

EDDIE ROUSH SWATS TIMELY

By HENRY McLEMORE, International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—One of those composers of cheerful wall mottos in search of inspiration could do much worse than consider the Brooklyn Robins.

For a sweet little sentiment could be penned concerning the joy to be found in being content with one's station in life from the study of Uncle Wilbert's athletes who are down-right jolly today over going into a fifth place tie with Philadelphia, Chicago and New York might frown over such a lowly standing but not the Robins. They are mighty glad to be up there at the top of the second division. The Robins turned the happy trick yesterday when they whipped the Braves 3 to 2, as the Phillies were being bounced by the Giants, 4 to 2.

Roush Hits Timely

The Robins should doff their caps to veteran Eddie Roush, who capped the Phils single-handed by getting a double, triple and a homer in that order. The Brooklyn have an opportunity tomorrow to show the Giants their appreciation when they meet them in a single game. They will probably do so by smacking McGraw's boys all over the lot.

The Cards and Pirates spent the afternoon in splitting a double-header. St. Louis winning the second 10 to 2 after dropping the first 5 to 1. Casey got a homer and three doubles. Horns got No. 39, two singles and a double as the Cubs whipped the Reds, 1 to 0. It was Charley Root's 18th win.

American activities were featured by the fine hurling of youthful Wes Ferrell who turned in his 20th win as the Indians scalped the Browns, 4 to 0. Ferrell allowed but two hits. The Red Sox slammed Lefty Grove for a 10 to 0 decision over the champion Athletics.

Platters yielded but two singles and Gehrie his 35th home run as the Yankees skunked the Senators, 3 to 0. It took Detroit eleven innings to down the White Sox, 9 to 8. Reemut Stone was quite mischievous for the Tigers, getting a homer in addition to three less potent hits.

The Russians and Chinese, doing something while pretending they aren't doing it, show how far the American influence is spreading.

LEHIGH MUSHBALL TEAM NEW COUNTY CHAMPIONS

Lehigh Team Defeats National Tube 5 To 3 In Final Series Game Saturday

Rich On Knoll For Lehigh Team Hurls Excellent Ball; Turner Is Star Hitter

The Lehigh Portland Cement company team won the Lawrence County mushball championship Saturday at Ewing Park, Ellwood City, by defeating the strong National Tube company team. The score was 5 to 3. The victory Saturday gave the Lehigh boys two victories out of three games played.

Rich on the hill for the Lehigh team pitched a great game, holding the heavy hitting Ellwoodians to three hits, and fanning three batters in the fifth inning. With the bases full in the fifth inning, and Turner the National Tube star third-sacker at bat, Rich slipped the knockout dose over on him to retire the side. The National Tube boys could not fathom the tricky delivery of Rich, who used a clever change of pace. Patterson on the knoll for the losers was hit hard for thirteen safe swats.

Lehigh Fields Well
The fielding of Cutler and Mazzeri featured for the Lehigh, this pair turning in several sensational plays that cut out Ellwood City runs. The timely batting of Ross for the Lehigh was a feature.

For the National Tube team the playing of Luciano was a bright spot around second base. Turner and Mariana did the slugging for the Tubers, the former crashing out a triple.

Both teams went scoreless in the first inning, but in the second the Lehigh came through with a pair of runs, and the Tubers did likewise. In the third frame, the Lehigh boys took the lead by getting to Patterson for enough hits to shove over three runs. The Lehigh team was held scoreless by the Specialty department team for the remainder of the game. The Ellwood team had one more run, this coming in the fourth inning. The final three innings were scoreless ball. The Lehigh team fielded faultlessly, while the Ellwood team had one error, a fumble by Sumner.

It was a great game to watch. The game was not decided until the last man was out.

Flynn Is Happy
Manager Freddy Flynn is receiving the congratulations today for having led the Lehigh team through a wonderful season of mushball. The locals played headup mushball at all times, and were hard to down.

The Lehigh team had a fine following of supporters at Ellwood City Saturday for the championship game. "Wes" Davey, as usual was in the front-line trenches yelling his head off for the Lehigh to come through, and they did.

The series was staged in fine order. Both teams were on edge for the games. The teams were fairly evenly matched as to playing strength. It was the heavy hitting of the Lehigh team that carried them through to the title honors. Gus Thompson, Ross and Reider hit the ball hard in the game Saturday.

Manager Ruth—Maybe

MANAGER RUTH?

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Staff Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Eyes of the sport world, turning from the flower-decked mound in a Cincinnati, Ohio, cemetery, the last resting place of Miller Huggins, the little man big enough to boss the best ball team in diamond history, find themselves focused on Babe Ruth.

Babe Ruth may be the next manager of the New York Yankees. Babe Ruth, big, blundering Babe Ruth, the careless, care-free playboy of the greensward managing the Yanks!

Well—why not? The Babe Ruth who sincerely said: "Huggins—a great little guy. I'm sort of ashamed that it took me so long to realize how great he was," is not the same Babe who went on a terrific rampage in 1923, not the Babe who defied his bosses, not the Babe who was getting into one scrape after another until the public began to tire of even such a great idol as he was. Nineteen twenty-nine—a fateful year in sports—has greatly sobered the Babe. He appears to be a changed man. The death of his first wife in January was a great blow. His near collapse from illness in mid-season was another. Time and tragedy have this year changed Ruth.

Babe Ruth wants to be a manager. He wants to retain the $70,000 a season salary he has been getting under a three-year contract now coming to an end. The Babe has been showing signs of age and the Yankees management has been none too keen to fork over another $70,000 next year to a man who may never again approximate the ability he has shown this year.

It would be a good stroke of business on the part of everyone concerned for Babe to be retained under a one-year contract as player-manager under the old figure. Ruth as manager would appeal to fans, at least for one season.

Of course, the woods are full of men who would like to occupy the spot on the Yankee bench where sat Miller Huggins for 12 years, but the inside track looks like Babe's.

Energy, winner of the first half of the City-County League schedule, gets the pennant for the league for the season of 1929.

This was assured on Saturday afternoon, when in the final contest of the series of five games for the league championship, played at the Energy field, Energy defeated Danceland, its only contender for the honor, by the close score of 9-8. Danceland won the second half of the league schedule and had the right to contest for the league championship and pennant.

The game played Saturday at Energy was a hectic affair and the result was in doubt until the very last minute of play.

Pitching honors were about even. C. Vaneman for the Danceland team was touched up for 13 hits, gave but two bases on balls and struck out nine of the opposing batsmen.

His two opponents, Houk and Dean, allowed but 12 hits between them. Houk allowed but two bases on balls and Dean but one, while Houk struck out 10 of Danceland's heavy batsmen in seven innings and Dean three in two innings.

Vaneman's support was not as good as that of Houk and Dean, and this may be said to have had something to do with the former losing out in the contest. Danceland made six errors behind Vaneman, while the Energy team made but two.

Fabine of the Energy team was the outstanding batting star of the contest, making three hits, two of which were for three bases. Pannell was the batting star for the Danceland team, one of which was for two bases.

Danceland made a determined effort to win the contest, as is indicated by the fact that its players had seven stolen bases to their credit to one made by the Energy players.

When the contest entered the first half of the eighth inning the score was 5-5. Energy scored two runs in its half, while Danceland was blanked. With the score 7-5 in favor of Energy in the first of the ninth, Energy again scored two runs, making it 9-5.

A last moment determined rally by Danceland netted that team three runs, just one shy of a tie and two less than a victory, which meant the championship of the league.

The contest was witnessed by a large crowd of enthusiastic baseball fans, who found plenty in the play of both aggregations to stir up their enthusiasm.

A summary of the game follows:

Danceland	R. H. E.
Vaneman, 2b	0 0 2
Gall, lf	1 1 0
Pannell, rf	1 3 0
F. Vaneman, 1b	1 1 2

Ruth Not Favored As Yank's Manager

Bambino Not Taken Seriously Except In Yanks Right Field

MUST NAME MANAGER WITHIN SIX WEEKS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Staff Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Some of the cheer leaders around here undoubtedly have worked George Ruth into the terrible condition called a frame of mind with their stories about him being named manager of the Yankees as successor to the late Miller Huggins and, personally, I don't think he has a chance. George has it in him to be either the worst manager of all the bad ones the dear, old game has known or one of the best. But the New York Yankees probably will never find out which he is.

A new manager of the ball club must be named within the next six weeks and, when this happens, a certain Mr. Barrow will be the man who will name him. He may name that sterling fellow, Joe Windmill. He might even name himself; reluctantly, you know, but with a brave smile. But it is 10 to 1 that he won't name Ruth.

He once managed Mr. Ruth in Boston when Mr. Ruth didn't need a manager so much as did his manager after he had finished a day managing Mr. Ruth. Never a very mellow gentleman, the incident seems to have driven the iron deep into Mr. Barrow's soul. Offhand, I would say that he has never forgiven Mr. Ruth for letting him be his manager. They respect each other, this pair, but as personal bed fellows they are as the poles apart and I don't mean Lithuanians, either.

Would Divert Hitting.
Of course, it is Jake Ruppert's ball club and they would be arguing over and naturally Jacob might be expected to have something to say about it. He would say it, too—after he had talked to Mr. Barrow. The Colonel doesn't run the ball club; all he does is own it.

This is too bad, for unless I mistake Mr. Barrow, it spoils an interesting experiment. There would be nothing so diverting as George's attempt to manage a lot of men after the way he has played the game of baseball and the game of life until recent years. The nation would take as much proprietary interest in this situation as ever it did in his home run hitting and, if Ruth scored as a manager, the club would have to close the gates at noon to keep out the riff raff. And who is there to say that he wouldn't score?

The man has personality, undying ambition, baseball brains. He is inspiring, forceful and able to command respect. So far, this sounds like a chamber of commerce invitation to inspect the local gas works. Yet, with all of these virtues, nobody can say poor and the young whether Ruth would make the best or the worst manager of all time.

The baseball writers' association once put on a burlesque of Ruth as manager of the Yankees and, at the time, this idea alone was funny enough without the dialogue that made it an absolute wallop in the waistcoat. It isn't funny now.

Has Seen Light.

The great man has seen the light, it seems, and no longer does he flit hither and thither of an evening. In fact, the very men who write the sketch now are writing him into the management. They might do worse. If Ruth would rise to the responsibilities of the position, he probably would click.

As it is, he isn't likely to get the chance. Barrow doesn't take him seriously. Except as the right fielder of the ball club, he thinks Ruth has been pampered; that the lash is better for him than the lily.

It doesn't stand to reason, therefore, that he would yes George into a job that might become bigger than his own.

Flower Of American And Canadian Women Golfers Start Match Play At Detroit

By ROBERT E. WALLACE
International News Service Staff Editor

DETROIT, Sept. 30.—The flower of American and Canadian feminine golfing talent assembled here today for the 33rd Annual Women's National tournament.

As plays starts over the intricate Oakland Hills country club course this morning, the field apparently is the strongest in the history of women's golf. The list of entries, numbering approximately 96, is not as large as that of last year but only those who have achieved a handicap of six or less have been allowed to enter, whereas in the 1928 tournament players with handicaps of seven and eight were permitted to compete.

Collett Seeks Title

Glenna Collett, the champion, is shooting for her fourth national title. If she wins it Miss Collett will be as dominant in the women's field as Bobby Jones is in the men's. Several women have won three titles but none has ever succeeded in capturing the fourth. Miss Collett took her first championship in 1922, at the age of 20, and the second in 1925.

Helen Hicks, 17-year-old Long Island girl whose record since last fall has made her the sensation of the season, may have something to say about the 1929 championship, however.

So, also, may Maureen Orcutt, Virginia Van Wie, Marion Turple, Louise Fordyce, Mrs. G. H. Stetson, Virginia Wilson, Helen Payson, Mrs. Stewart Hanley, Ada MacKenzie, and Mrs. Harley Higbie, to name only a few.

The qualifying round today will reduce the field to 32. The 32 lowest scores will enter the match play tournament which starts Tuesday.

Henry Firpo To Battle Lee Tozo

Henry Firpo, middleweight, passed through New Castle last night enroute to Oil City where he meets Lee Tozo, a brother to Rocky Kansas, in a 10-round bout tonight. Firpo appeared to be in excellent shape.

The qualifying round today will reduce the field to 32. The 32 lowest scores will enter the match play tournament which starts Tuesday.
